Overview

This is a set of eight philosophy books based upon a new theory of Physics. Instead of objects and forces inhabiting space and time, this theory is based upon interacting singularities. It has a unified approach to Physics using dark matter and dark energy, elements on how life started for Biology, and a general understanding of who we are as a people. It is my attempt to understand life and the universe; to see the truth without religion, traditions, or elitist intellectuals getting in the way. Furthermore, it is based upon the new science of subspace singularities that not only explains gravity and electromagnetic forces but also explains the origins of life as well.

These books are open for all religions, faiths and to anyone who questions existence. This is my attempt to get us away from the new Dark Age that we are headed into and instead transport us into to a new golden age. Welcome to a new Renaissance Age where we understand our importance and our relationship with God. See a new future with affordable energy, a free economy, and a new distribution of wealth; the year of the Jubilee where all debts are forgiven, and all homes are returned to their owners.

Forward

This is 50 year to the day from when I started this quest in trying to understand the universe. And now this Coronavirus COVID-19 is spreading around the world for the first time and everyone is quarantined in their houses. So I thought this would be a good time to add a small addition to this work explaining in a small way our essence. This is probably my last opportunity to add to this before I go on to my next great adventure.

I will make one last stab in trying to get this published by breaking these books into small sections and making them into the seven colors of the rainbow plus gold. No significance really other than the love of colors.

And I am writing this last book in memory of my old English Teacher whose name I have now forgotten, but she taught at Roosevelt High School, Seattle Washington USA in the 1960s. She taught poetry. Her rule was to analyze a poem but always put it back together again to see its beauty.

This last section is my attempt to put everything back together and see the beauty of this life.

When I had that near-death experience mentioned back in book 1 it was about the same period as this English class, 1965. I met this lady, she was 21, and I was 17, in the hallways as I was waiting for schoolroom to open after lunch. Long story made short she told me she wanted to finish high school because she was dying. That night I sat at the edge of by bed and ask God why? I closed my eyes and the room violently spun around, decreasing in size until it vanished. I opened my eyes expecting everything to have fallen off of the shelves but nothing had moved. So I closed my eyes again and the same thing happened. I kept my eyes closed and repeated my question, Why?

I was moving across this dark ocean. I could see the gentle moving waves. When I asked “Why” the words appeared as light moving away from me, very bright. They were going in the same direction I was going only much faster. Then I came against something.

I was on my bed like I was knocked out. I had forgotten to breath. My mind was completely turned off. Not a thought in my head. What had happened? I tried to remember. That is when I remembered seeing a shadow of a man, very gentle and kind, with an incredible bright light behind Him. So bright it would have burned me alive. And there was a rainbow over the whole scene. With the words “Yes we know! We are very proud of her!”

I had not told this story before because it was very personal. But the first part is how I received the idea of inverse space. I actually pictured this as a painting of a desert scene with a vast landscape. In the foreground was a road and on the road was a car. The car had a door and the door had a button. Now reverse it. The button fills the whole picture. Then it decreases to the door, then the car, the road with the smallest part of the picture the vast landscape.

As you read on you can understand you can start to see that we are not simple beings. Things are far more complicated than we make them to be.

The Quest

I sit by the fire. The fire gives me warmth and light. There is truth in the fire. The fire is my friend.

My time before the fire may be coming to an end. But this is a good spot and curiosity makes great kindling to get your own fire started.

The abyss is timeless and there is much to be learned in its study. Don't be intimidated and don't jump to conclusions. It takes time to understand the unknown.

Redistribution

I have given the electronic book at a low cost, so it can be distributed around the Internet to reach as many people as possible. I have the copyrights, so others cannot steal it and hide it. If you can translate this electronic book into another language please do so. I give you all rights to make an electronic book in another language other than English; I only ask that you keep the cost as low as possible so that all can benefit from this effort.

And he said unto me, You must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

Our Nature

I was young and now I'm old. And through the years I tried to understand life and the world around me. It didn't always make sense.

Around the world the restaurants are empty. The great plazas have very few people. Great cathedrals, synagogues, mosques stand empty. Easter approaches as a surreal quiet ascends upon the world as if waiting for what is to come. It feels like end times.

This is the Coronavirus COVID-19 shutdown and the world has ground to a halt. And I thought that this would be a good time to put my thoughts together for one final time on the mysteries of the universe. And this time I am going to concentrate on us. Exactly what is a human being? And of course this breaks down into two questions. What does it mean to be humane, and what is a being? And I will approach this question from the classroom.

In my minds eye I'm standing in a classroom explaining my thoughts on a blackboard. Now in my day we had dark green blackboards with white chalk. Currently, people use smart boards with computer interfaces, and they use their hands to draw and save drawings. And I suppose in your day there will be thought imaging boards with artificial intelligence helpers. But for this explanation lets stick with the old fashion blackboard.

In the center of the board I'll make a point and I will label this point $\mathbf{R^0}$. It's a point of no dimensions. Below it, I'll draw a line and label it $\mathbf{R^1}$. It has one dimension. Below this I'll draw a square and label it $\mathbf{R^2}$. It has two dimensions. Below this I'll draw the perception of a cube which I label $\mathbf{R^3}$. Now this drawing only has two dimensions since it is drawn on a blackboard. But in our mind's eye we can visualize the three dimensions since we live in a three-dimensional universe. Now I can draw higher dimensional constructs on the blackboard, but the mind can not follow it since our perception is limited to three dimensions.

Now above the $\mathbf{R^0}$ dot I am going to draw another image, a line with a large point in the center of it. Now I am going to label this line $\mathbf{R^{-1}}$. This is a line with a singularity and this singularity affects the whole line. Instead of distances measured with a vector $\mathbf{R}$ from some arbitrary point all distances are measured from the singularity point and the dimension is 1/R.

Now let's look at this singularity in a little more detail. We'll start with one of Zeno's paradoxes. In the regular world we start some distance away from a point and move half of the distance to it. We are now closer. We will have to that an infinite number of times to reach that point. Luckily that is easy to do. On this $\mathbf{R^{-1}}$ line it is not as easy. Approaching the singularity by moving half of the distance makes it twice as far away.

The last image that I will draw is a square with a large point in the center. And I will label this $\mathbf{R^{-2}}$ which is the construct I used for all physical interactions. Instead of having Cartesian coordinates this has a polar coordinates around the singularity with the dimension 1/R.

The easiest way to explain this space is to draw concentric circles around the singularity point. The smaller the circle the larger it's circumference. An infinitely large circle would have the circumference of a point. It would be a closed space.

Now I am going to erase everything, and I am just going to concentrate on the $\mathbf{R^{-2}}$ space which I represent with a circle and a dot at its center. Now I have a problem. How do I determine its dimension on a two-dimensional blackboard. If it was a real singularity the center point would be infinitely far away. My ruler would shrink, and it takes an infinite time to reach the center. I can only make this measurement on the two-dimensional blackboard. It appears to be a false representation.

But the crazy truth of this situation is the universe that we live in is based upon this false representation. Because as I have shown in these books the singularity spaces interact in this three-dimensional universe, actually four dimensional due to the time axis.

I call this universe a subspace since it is made from the outer boundaries of these singularity spaces. And all the physical properties comes from these interactions.

Now this is the interesting part. A singularity space doesn't have a detectable structure except on its outer boundaries. Its internal energy, its space and time comes from within. Its nature comes from the unknowable center.

So why can't we use this model to explain other things as well? Take color for instance. It has to do with the nature of the eye and its ability to detect frequency of light. Now this information travels through the nerves and is presented to the brain. It is distributed across the back of the brain like a projector screen. But Red is an experience. Like the other colors, they are real. Where does this experience come from?

This is the question that is the basis of this book. What am I? And to answer this question I have to go back through all the other books in this series. Because it is obvious, I must be a singularity.

But the truth is I'm not the center of a singularity because the singularity is unknowable. Everything I know of my body, my thoughts, my feelings are on the outside of the singularity at its outer boundary. This is where I exist. I will never be the singularity, but my source is the singularity. Even if I disappear my source will remain forever. Time only exists on the outside.

So what am I? I am on the outside where time and space, color and music, personality exist. I am at the smallest point, the boundary, but this is the point where all the interactions is at. And we were made to interact.

We only acknowledge our existence on the outside where we interact with other people and things. This is not only physical but mental as well. Everything comes from within.

And the secret of life is not that we create energy, but we create order. Since we know information can not travel faster than the speed of light and information is the transfer of order then order must be like energy and must come from the singularities.

And we found out this truth while making computer programs of various simulations. You couldn't make the simulations from the outside using mathematical formulas and probability tables. Instead, the program had to use objects that interact with each other, and we had to look at the simulation from viewpoints of the objects themselves. And it appears what's true for a simulation is true for reality as well.

We have three parts; the body, the Bios, life as a biological organism, which will die that exists in the physical universe. The mind, the Psyche, individual consciousness, that can die or can live forever if it is worthwhile. And the spirit, Zoe, interconnected life eternal, that will live forever since it is like energy in the physical universe and order in the mental universe and comes from within.

Now if you go back and read the other books of this series you will see everything in a new light. And I will leave you with this thought. When you see a person die it looks like they shrink away to nothing. Actually from their viewpoint they are entering the singularity and they are entering a vast space within. This is our home, this is where we live.

But how about the humane part? That seems to be the part where we fail. This is why we try to be civil in a civilization. And this is the whole reason for our existence, building a civilization.

Now there is a question about our own personal attitudes. Do we only care about ourselves or do we care about others as well? And if we think about how we are made and if we have the same singularity center then the real question boils down to this; do we care more about the outside or the inside? The outside is our boundary line, that place where we stop existing. And yet it is here where everything seems so real. Colors, feelings, touch are boundary experiences.

Now our viewpoint is individual. My viewpoint will not match another person's viewpoint. That is why we cannot judge each other. It is the richness of creation that is important. From the inside there is no partiality of one viewpoint over another. It's all significant to the insides. But there are healers and those that sicken, those that build and those that destroy. There are those who provides truths and those who make falsehoods, those who help and those that hinder.

Most people get religion and godliness mixed up to the point where they can end up on the wrong side of God. There are those who follow their religions with no transformation to their character. The outside is more important than their insides. The truth is you have to see God in everyone.

Now let's go back to the blackboard for a moment. Where is the center of the circle of singularity space? You know approximately where it is, but you can never know exactly since, from this viewpoint, it is infinitely small.

You can only find it if it wants to be found. It will show itself when you get close to it, but you have to leave this viewpoint to see it.

Now with us, we have a heart, it's the center of our being. And our heart is a large place but as we back away it becomes smaller and smaller. That usually happens with traumas that we want to forget. They can get locked away in a shrinking heart.

Now the heart drives our thoughts and our words. Whatever we have planted in the garden of our heart will grow. Some planting have been from other people, friends, teachers, media. Some of the planting we have done ourselves. You can weed your garden removing those influences from your life. You have to be careful that other sources aren't replanting these after your gardening efforts.

Now in the middle of the garden is an altar. Some people keep this altar clean and shiny with no weeds around it. It is the prize of the garden. Other people pretend like it doesn't exist. Overgrown with weeds in a garden full of scary monsters and poisonous plants. Doubts, hates, sorrows fills this place with a darken sky. Don't you know that when you die this is where you end up? This is the future you left yourself. Are you a hater? Now hatred has been turned back upon you. Do you doubt? I doubt you will get much comfort from that. Are you selfish? Then you are your own reward. If you spin things them you can spin yourself.

How about, while we are still alive, we straighten ourselves and march in and confront our demons and clean up our gardens? Get rid of hate and fear and plant the Lord's words. Those who feared God and lived their lives according to His word life doesn't end with death. If they kept the altar up they can step through the altar into a new life. It is bigger on the insides.

Lastly know this. The Lord is the actual personification of God. Get to know Him. Walk with Him. Live in the nine Fruits of the Spirit given in Galatians chapter 5 and don't allow yourself to be ruined following the lusts of the flesh. Even if there is joy for a season it will ruin any chance for happiness.

Galatians 5:1-25 (FT)

For freedom has Christ freed you; be standing therefore and be not being subject again to the yoke of slavery. Behold I Paul say to you that if you be circumcised, Christ will profit you nothing. For I again testify to every man being circumcised that he is debtor to do the whole law. You have disassociated from Christ, whoever of you is justified in the law, you have fallen from grace.

For we by the spirit await from faith the hope of justness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision avails anything nor un-circumcision, but faith working through agape-love [the love that is of and from God, his very nature].

You were running well, what hindered you to not be being persuaded to the truth? This persuasion is not from the one calling you. A little leaven leavens the whole lump. I am persuaded for you in the Lord that you will think on nothing else; but the one troubling you will bear the judgment, whoever he be.

But I, brothers, if I still proclaim circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Therefore the stumbling of the cross is nullified. O that those upsetting you even be cut off.

For you were called to freedom, brothers, only not the freedom for pretext in the flesh, but through agape-love be enslaved to one another. For the law is fulfilled in one word, in the: You will agape-love your neighbor as yourself. But if you bite and devour one another, be seeing that you not be consumed by one another.

But I say, be walking in the spirit and you will not completing the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusts [intense desire to dominate] against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, lest you do those things which you want [or desire].

But if you are led by the spirit, you are not under law. But manifest are the works of the flesh, which are fornication [sexual intercourse between people not married to each other], uncleanness [unfit to use for worship], licentiousness [promiscuous and unprincipled in sexual matters], idolatry [blind or excessive devotion to something], sorcery [supernatural power through the assistance of evil spirits], enmity [mutual hatred, ill will], strife [conflict, contest for superiority], jealousy [fearful of losing affection or position, being overly zealous], wrath [forceful, vindictive anger], selfishness [thinking only of your own advantage], dissension [disagreeing, bickering, contentious quarreling], factions [sects, rivalry, tribalism], envy [feeling of discontent because of someone's possessions], drunkenness [state of intoxication], partying [excessive over indulgence], and the like, of which I tell you before, that those practicing such will not inherit the kingdom of God.

But the fruit of the spirit is agape-love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, trustworthiness, gentleness, self-control, against such there is no law. And they of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions [strong emotions, personal sufferings, challenges] and its lusts [intense desires].

If we zoe-live [life real and genuine originating from God] in the spirit, let us also be in line with the spirit. Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

We have a physical nature, our bodies, a mental nature, our minds, and a spiritual nature, our hearts, not the pump but the center of our beings, our essence. Each of these natures has an emotional side, a rational side and a sociable side. How these sides are developed determines what type of person we become.

Now the following are Fruits of the Spirit which means these are evidence of the Spirit working in your life. This is more an evidence of surrendering to the will of God then trying to properly behave from our own mindset. We, by the spirit, await from faith the hope of justness [righteousness]. Now the definition of just means we are guided by truth, reason, justice, and fairness. But we cannot have this righteousness by ourselves; it can only come from God through Jesus sacrifice for us. And Jesus has to live in our heart in that altar in the center of our garden. And it is your job to fix up the altar and ask Him to live there. Only then will the faith work through agape-love of the Father. The working of the trinity of God in your life, the faith, hope, and love, is critical for any transformation to your life. The nature we should have to have a peaceful society is the following:

Physical Rational = Self Control
(discipline and control over one's actions)

Physical Emotional = Gentleness
(a mild and personal manner)

Physical Sociable = Faithfulness
(fidelity and truth with others)

Mental Rational = Goodness
(morality and ethics guiding reasoning)

Mental Emotional = Kindness
(benignity and mercy guiding disposition)

Mental Sociable = Patience
(forbearance and patience guiding personal interactions, also called long-suffering)

Spiritual Rational = God's Peace
(serenity, harmony, tranquility is your innermost soul)

Spiritual Emotional = God's Joy
(rejoice, delight, gladness fills your innermost essence)

Spiritual Sociable = God's Love
(forgiveness, understanding govern your heart)

Whatever you do in life use these attributes as your markers. They are fruits of the spirit for your soul. But don't forget the last part.

If we Zoe-live [life real and genuine originating from God] in the spirit, let us also be in line with the spirit. Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

If we want our lives to be transformed we have to stay in the spirit. We have to stay humble putting other people first. The moment we become conceited, we become stiff-necked and hard-hearted we lost our connection to the Zoe-life. And now we are back to our old nature again, the nature that will die.

We also lose our connection if we provoke one another. Provoke means to harass, challenge, arouse and it causes divisions. And I understand when you see people sleepwalking through life you want to shake them and tell them to wake up. But that is not your job, you are not the judge and jury over other people's life. Judging other people will only mess you up and cause you to lose your Zoe-life.

Lastly don't envy what you see around you. God has you in His hands, He wants to be your everything. So you have to walk in faith. Absolutely trust God in every matter. If you don't, you can lose your life eternal.

Nature of God

Many people believe in God but exclude this opinion from their scientific thinking. God is too big to fit within an orderly universe. However, to throw away data that is too great for our minds to comprehend is also not scientific, and it limits our ability to understand truth.

Now this has not been an easy task describing God. It is akin to believing in the Celestial Spheres where the sun, moon, stars moved around the earth. Then suddenly seeing the enormous vastness of the universe where the earth has disappeared behind a minor sun in the corner of one of an uncountable number of galaxies. The scope of this change of viewpoint takes our breath away.

And this task was tricky too. Many of us take our values and beliefs from our religion. And examining the nature of God forces a reexamining of these beliefs. This is very personal; you have to be sure of your beliefs to let go of them knowing they are going to return stronger, surer and real. But please note this, no one can tell someone else that their beliefs are wrong. That they must do as a part of their own discovery.

This is my exploration, and you are welcome to join me. But read this with your eyes open, it is a dangerous journey. You may be left with misconceptions. And please shelve the religious arguments at least for now. This is more of a philosophical argument than a religious one.

The Essence

We have to go back to our starting point, the backdrop that has no space, no time, no energy or form. It is neither point nor universe. It is timeless but it is not frozen. It is something that is the basis of everything, and it is not nothing since nothing doesn't exist. And it can obviously take forms of all sort, still being unchanged, as if there were an infinite supply since it is from this that we defined existence. It is what is, the basis of everything, time, space, energy, matter, thought, feelings; everything that we know that defines reality. And while we can not directly understand this starting point we can understand aspects of it from the nature of the universe generated from it.

For example since space originated from this starting point then from every location in space this essence has the same relationship. It would be omnipresent. And since time originated as well it would be omniscient. And again with energy and matter, omnipotence. These are all attributes that major religions assign to god.

The question we need to answer is how can God create the universe and everything in it? And the answer appears to be by taking a three in one nature. By having three views of reality at the same time and having these views react with each other. How can three views create the universe? At one level of thinking there is only God, there is nothing else. So is this, everything we see around us, a dream? Yes and it's reality too, however we want to define it, it is real. And God is even more real.

As we approach this question we must recognize our own limitations. We have concepts that are based upon our daily life which we consider to be the basis of reality; awake/sleep, here/there, now/then, and many others that we might have to let go of to discover the answer of the universe creation.

The Persona of God

The very essence of what we see around us is design. We call a lot of it natural and dismissed the beauty of its construction. The relationship of the circumference of a circle to its diameter is always a fixed number, Pi. Distances in flat, unmoving fields of reference are always the same. Mathematical operations are always consistent. Objects do not change their form unless it is in a unified consistent manner. The view of the physical universe is the same for all of us.

We don't think of these things as being designed but they are. As much as our cell actions, body parts interaction, thought processes. Why? Because there is only God, everything else was added. God is the designer, the mathematician, the artist. This is the very persona of God.

So the designer spoke, He is the very words He spoke. All He has to convince is Himself that these limitations were true. Himself in all three viewpoints. And He had faith that this was so, the very definition of existence. Note I won't impose a gender identity on God, but I have a limitation based upon the language.

The Witness

There is one who is the witness, who attests, manifests, the universe. He is the substance of everything, He is space, He is time, He is energy, He is thought, He is spirit. He interconnects everything and ties it all together. He is how you can be you and I can be me.

The Witness is between the Persona and the Essence in agreement with the faith of the creation. God is one, there is no separation in God. He is witnessing to Himself and we who are created can partially see this witness.

Universe Creation

Everything in the universe has a here and now. Even things that existed in the past, when they existed they had a here and now. The same is true for things that haven't existed yet but will exist. This here and now is life, and it is from God. The God that has always existed who is omnipresent. When you think about the past or future that is your mind that is working. The one that was designed by the Persona, that is functioning by the Witness. And we have a reality within. It is the very breath of God. Our life is in our movement, our thinking that is happening in the here and now. And you were given freewill, you are not a soulless machine. This choice is our essence and we learn from our interactions. And we call ourselves “beings” and our choices stem from this definition. Are we our own deities and everything we choose is about us? Or are we complex servants of God and we have our being with Him? This is the choice we all have to make because a lot has been invested in us. And a lot of this investment is suffering.

So what happens when we die? The two life forces are separated. We no longer exist in the here and now. We no longer have the movement within, the ability to think or speak. However, whatever we've done in life, that still exists. The here and now is forever.

Now I do not think we cease to exist permanently. No different from when we go to sleep at night. We disappear for a moment and then re-awake in a dream-state. Whether it's a good dream or a nightmare depends upon what you are carrying with you.

When we as a people create a universe we do it by writing books. Nowadays, we use computers where programs are run with various actors interacting with each other. We call this a simulation. It uses a set of rules mathematical, logical, syntax in specific order to make functional blocks. These blocks perform the interactions and give life to the program.

God didn't use a computer, He is the essence of everything. But I can see the simulation being done in steps. I could see space being defined first, defined by the Persona and manifested by the Witness by essentially defining and connecting the dots of space by light. The next step is to repeat the first step, so there would be two universes side by side, one as a reference for the other. This is because of the third step where one of the spaces was drawn together into singularities because everything was built on an infinite scale. I'm sure that it gets even more complicated with energy flows, awareness, beings all based upon taking the simulation and making it more complicated and then rerunning the simulation. Viewing the simulation from each creature's viewpoint, from every tree and bush. Of course this simulation is what we call the universe. This is infinity times infinity, infinite scope and infinite detail. This is why we have a hard time in accepting this concept, it is beyond anything we can accept as truth.

Nature of People

We are probably the most complicated objects in the universe. We are beings that contain consciousness, we are aware of our own existence. Not only able to detect what's happening around us but also to affect it. We have the powers of reason and speech. We have passions, emotions and can influence each other. We are unable to completely understand our motivations, however. We really do not understand what we are except for the fact that we're here.

We are in truth an experiment; an experiment of being interactions. And instead of being forced programmed into a set states of interactions we are allowed to make our own discoveries on how to interrelate in much the same ways that we currently allow artificial intelligence machines to learn their abilities. The process of discovery is the best learning tool.

And to speed up the process we are instantiated billions of time into various forms and personalities. And we react with each other, study our reactions and read about previous interactions to learn even more.

But to what end are we developing, and what is kept of our results? Is it just society that's kept or are pieces of us kept as well after we cease reacting? What is the purpose of life?

As I stated before God is real. And God accomplishes things with a sense of purpose. He has to, He's a closed entity, there is nothing outside of God. If anything is going to be accomplished it has to be done by God in God. There is nothing else.

Now everything is a form of limitation. If 1 + 1 = 2 then it cannot also equal 3 or 4. And if you have light then you also have darkness. If you have truths then you also have falsehoods. There is no getting around this fact. It is the Yin Yang example in everything. And society has the same limitation.

Everything we do, we do through God. Why we are allowed to do bad things I cannot answer. I think our inner nature development is key and that development could not happen if we didn't have freewill. That God developed a persona, and now he is making separate persons with personalities of their own is truly amazing.

We have a physical nature, our bodies, a mental nature, our minds, and a spiritual nature, our hearts, not the pump but the center of our beings, our essence. Each of these natures has an emotional side, a rational side and a sociable side. How these sides are developed determines what type of person we become.

The nature we should have to have a peaceful society is the following:

Physical Rational = Self Control (discipline and control over one's actions)

Physical Emotional = Gentleness (a mild and personal manner)

Physical Sociable = Faithfulness (fidelity and truth with others)

Mental Rational = Goodness (morality and ethics guiding reasoning)

Mental Emotional = Kindness (benignity and mercy guiding disposition)

Mental Sociable = Patience (forbearance and patience guiding personal interactions)

Spiritual Rational = Peace (serenity, harmony, tranquility is your innermost soul)

Spiritual Emotional = Joy (rejoice, delight, gladness fills your innermost essence)

Spiritual Sociable = Love (forgiveness, understanding govern your heart)

These are known as the "Fruit of the Spirits" as given in the book "Galatians" chapter 5 verse 22. These exist if God is in your heart. If God is not in your heart other attributes will be present. So what is in your heart? Some have bitterness, some sorrow, some anger, some hate, some not caring, some greed and some are happy and peaceful. This affects your thinking and your actions. It is your true nature.

But most of us do not have this nature even though this would make the best of all possible societies. And we have to admit that we are animals, and we have needs like any other animal based upon our biology. We have survival instincts and propagation needs. We require a territory in which to hunt or forage in order to satisfy those needs. We require a den or area of protection to protect us from the elements and other species. And animals like us have emotions of anger, playfulness, being upset, sad, joyful. They have reasoning skills, social skills, some can sing, some can play, some can hunt, some can soar. It's obvious we're related.

But we are also something else. No other animal laughs with abandon. We create art, music, stories of fact and fiction. And we build, protect and defend the weak and defenseless. And we lie, steal, kill and destroy without reason.

There's an acknowledgment that goes beyond the physical, it is a sense of self, and it has two competing parts; there is selfishness and selflessness. One is the thinking that you are the only being of importance, the other is the realization that you are part of God's creation and as such put other people need first. And as such these two sides fight in a Yin Yang fashion in every decision that we make.

But there is another aspect that complicates these decisions. We have a spiritual side that is our connection to God. And depending upon our life decisions our spirit can either be alive or dead. If our spirit is alive we are aware of God's direction, His inspiration, and promises. If our spirit is dead then we are little more than a machine. Mindlessly going through the routines of life without compassion, without satisfaction, without interest. In other words the walking dead.

Does it scare you if I say you are light? For existence is light and you exists. And as this instantaneous light is the source of energy and awareness, it is also your source. And as your light dims your realization dims. And if it's extinguished you become a machine with no life in you. Remember machines are thrown away when they are no longer useful. And this light comes from the altar that's in the center of our garden of our heart. If your altar is ignored, if it's covered with weeds how can the light shine?

So if our spirit is dead how can we become alive again? How can we reconnect to God? It takes desire and effort to be real. So if you want to go on I show you the route. However, if you are happy with yourself as you are, I recommend you stop reading.

Relating to God

What am I? My thoughts are like everyone else, I'm a person living in the universe trying to make my way through this universe. It's all up to me, the universe doesn't care if I exist or not. But I now know that this viewpoint is erroneous. I struggle in this universe, but I am not alone. There is God.

So how do we deal with a Godless universe? Well by definition, a Godless universe is empty and void. Everything that we see is from God even if it is not doing the will of God. So if we walk in faith we have the upper hand; faith is the light of existence. We can change things with God, so our hope is fulfilled. Others can't. They can only use life's ability to gather the things that they can see. We can gather the things that we don't see, but only God knows about. Their evidence of their success is based upon what they own. Our evidence is based upon God and truthfully the less we own, the better off we are. We need to walk in faith, interacting with God.

We were made to work with the angels and to do the work of God through the seven spirits of God. Our part was the Revelation Knowledge and the Respect, the fear of God. From Proverbs 8 we know that the fear of the Lord is hatred of evil. We also know that Revelation Knowledge is God given insight something that you know that you know. And no one can take it from you. The understanding and wisdom however belong to the angels as well as powers and counsel. These can be provided to you as you request them.

Hebrews 1:14 (NKJV)
Are they not all ministering spirits sent forth to minister for those who will inherit salvation?

But we chose a different path, and now we are using our own understanding and wisdom instead of God's. And when we don't get our own way we use our might and what we understand of the powers of nature to change things in our favor. Then we select a counsel of people to guide us to build mighty nations bent on doing evil against each other. We've moved out of God's purpose into the state where things are today. Just understand this. There is a devil who needs us to do his work. He has only dark, dismissive knowledge and a disrespect for God that requires your earthy understanding and wisdom, power and counsel to do his damage. Turn your back on him! Instead, look at leaving the world behind as much as possible and just walk with God.

When you react to the world it's God you're taking your frustrations out on. He's been quiet, suffering in silence since He knows you didn't mean it, but it still hurts. He watches over you as you sleep trying to comfort you. Many of us can not be comforted; we are too tangled in our hurts. We feel our traumas, the loss of our dreams, the abuse, the pain that we suffer from others. Many of us know fear, absolute terror as the agents of death and destruction march across our landscape. We hide in our shelters and in our homes as we await our end. You need to be hiding in God. Even though you moved out of God's plan, He still went looking for you. Regardless of your faith, religion, and understanding will you accept God's calling? And this is not in response to any person's challenge; this is just between you and God. Most religions in my thinking is just another form of devil worship.

Instead, this has to be one on one, between you and God. When you look around are you seeing things or are you seeing God? When you walk around are you walking in your grief or in the joy of the Lord? Where is your treasure, in God or in the world? Where is your heart? Is your peace from the world or from God? These are the questions you have to answer. And you can not answer these questions with a simple nod of the head, this is not an intellectual exercise, you have to walk in this constantly. This is a choice to live differently in grace and love attacking nobody. Nobody! Anyone else is God's problem not yours. Jesus paid the price for you to walk with Him in innocence with clean garments, don't get them dirty again. And if you want to know what He's done please read my book, but for now simply confess your sins to Him and accept the life He has for you. It's as simple as that! Don't make it anymore complicated than that.

I myself only know of one answer in the Christian Bible, the book of Matthew chapters 5, 6 and 7. Jesus taught that it is better to be poor than rich, to be hungrier than full, to be persecuted than loved if you are doing it for righteousness's sake. It is better to give of what you have in excess then to receive more excess. He even said not to worry about what you will eat or drink but first find the Kingdom of God, and God's righteousness and everything you will need shall be added unto you. So where is the Kingdom of God?

I had continued to meditate on this gift and realize now this is a civilization changing moment. This really does change everything in how we live. This third level of creation, this relationship with God is the Kingdom of God that Jesus talked about. And it's the Kingdom of God because we are located in Heaven. It's the Kingdom of where we actually are. Our bodies are on earth, but we operate them from Heaven since we have to be infinitely far away for life to work. Awareness is infinite speed across the singularity space. To have any frequency, any wavelength, there has to be infinite distance involved. And this infinite separation causes time. Time is the mechanism that will bring an end to the works of the devil.

So this place, the place where we actually exist is an entirely different universe operating by different rules than the physical universe. One is there's no time. We are not infinitely far apart. There is only a universal connection, a "Nowness" to everything here. And yet we can talk to God and have faith that He can change things. This universe has more freedoms than the one we know.

And to understand this universe we need to go back to what Jesus said about the Kingdom of God.

John 3:1-21 (NKJV)

There was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. This man came to Jesus by night and said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that You are a teacher come from God; for no one can do these signs that You do unless God is with him."

Jesus answered and said to him, "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

Nicodemus said to Him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?"

Jesus answered, "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born again.' The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear the sound of it, but cannot tell where it comes from and where it goes. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit."

Nicodemus answered and said to Him, "How can these things be?"

Jesus answered and said to him, "Are you the teacher of Israel, and do not know these things? Most assuredly, I say to you, We speak what We know and testify what We have seen, and you do not receive Our witness. If I have told you earthly things and you do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things? No one has ascended to heaven but He who came down from heaven, that is, the Son of Man who is in heaven. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life. For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved.

"He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For everyone practicing evil hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But he who does the truth comes to the light, that his deeds may be clearly seen, that they have been done in God."

Even though we are actually here we do not know we are here because we are not in God's light, the existence of heaven. So if you are in the flesh all you have is an awareness of this flesh. To have an awareness of the Kingdom of God you have to be born of the spirit. Otherwise, it is invisible to you. And if you stay in the darkness the only light you see are dimly lit personalities who are themselves fading out. I convinced that is why we watch the young in movies, their light is still strong.

And the only way to be born of the spirit is to believe that Jesus is the son of God and to live your life in the light of God in heaven. To believe means to have confidence that this is true, to trust Him. This is the faith God needs to intervene in your life. Jesus brought us this gift at great cost, this ability to live through Him in Heaven and to have His nature replace our natures. But to walk in this light we must constantly check our motivations and when we find ourselves living in error then we have to confess our sins to God and get back in the light. Simply put, this is a relationship with God.

Mark 10:13-25 (NKJV)

Then they brought little children to Him, that He might touch them; but the disciples rebuked those who brought them. But when Jesus saw it, He was greatly displeased and said to them, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God. Assuredly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will by no means enter it." And He took them up in His arms, laid His hands on them, and blessed them.

Now as He was going out on the road, one came running, knelt before Him, and asked Him, "Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?"

So Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good but One, that is, God. You know the commandments: 'Do not commit adultery,' 'Do not murder,' 'Do not steal,' 'Do not bear false witness,' 'Do not defraud,' 'Honor your father and your mother.' "

And he answered and said to Him, "Teacher, all these things I have kept from my youth."

Then Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, "One thing you lack: Go your way, sell whatever you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross, and follow Me."

But he was sad at this word, and went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. Then Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, "How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!" And the disciples were astonished at His words. But Jesus answered again and said to them, "Children, how hard it is for those who trust in riches to enter the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

Money cultivates self-esteem. If the important things in your life centers around satisfying your esteem through material possessions then the Lord cannot use you. He has to be the primary importance in your life. And He didn't tell everyone that followed Him to give away all of their possessions and cash. Your walk with Him is individual, but He does direct your life for His purposes. You have to be ready to surrender everything.

Romans 14:17-19 (NKJV)

for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. For he who serves Christ in these things is acceptable to God and approved by men.

Therefore let us pursue the things which make for peace and the things by which one may edify another.

Righteousness, peace, and joy exists in heaven by Jesus and is given to us through the Holy Ghost. The righteousness makes us free from guilt and sin. The peace establishes the mind. The joy fills the heart. And if we live in this existence we can radiate this into the world. And the world will fight us and try to take our joy and peace. The people who live in the flesh want us to live in the flesh also. To live under intellectual rules of conduct as if that produces righteousness. To stay quiet as if that can substitute for real peace. To be entertained as if that was joy.

Righteousness, peace, and joy is the anchor of our heart that keeps us grounded to God. Jesus said that we could speak to the mountains in our lives and cast them into the sea as long as we have faith and did not have doubt in our hearts. How can you have doubt if your innermost heart is in total peace, absolute joy and in right standing with God?

Through the Holy Spirit we have a singularity in our heart of three things, God's Righteous Love to us, God's Peace and God's Joy. If we have given ourselves to God, these exist in our very heart, an infinite well of holiness, peace, and joy. And they spread throughout our life and connects with other people's holiness, peace, and joy to cover the world with these three attributes. This is another Universe on top of the physical universe in fact it is another kingdom, The Kingdom of God.

But there's more. As three primary colors can produce three secondary colors so do these attributes. What does God's Righteousness and God's total Peace provide? Faith! There can be no doubt where these two attributes are in place. And what does God's Righteousness and God's Joy provide? A Charity Love! And lastly God's Peace and God's Joy produces Hope! Notice that Faith, Love and Hope are all action attributes while Righteousness, Peace and Joy are all state of beings. Faith, Charity Love and Hope all requires work to produce their desired results. That is because Faith, Charity Love and Hope all affect the physical universe. Lastly like all three primary colors together makes white all primary attributes together makes Jesus in His Glory, He lives in our heart. This is actually the Star of David.

I have to be honest with you; we're living in the last days when the devil is out to destroy us. The fourth beast is already here in the world is shown by the ISIS and Al-Qaeda radicals and the states of Saudi Arabia and Iran. And with the other beasts, Russia, China, and the United States, they will continue to battle each other like a giant "Punch and Judy" show with the Devil as puppeteer. The purpose of this show is to steal your soul, your future. You will be asked (at first) to take the mark of the beast, all of your money, your possession, your employment will be tied to this mark. And if you take the mark you will not go to heaven but will be thrown into the lake of fire. Many people already have the mark on their lives affecting their thinking and actions. Some people worship money, some power. Some are brainwashed to follow some cause or some political system. The only way to tell if it is too late for you is to come to Jesus and confess your sins. He actually will accept you, but there will be a point where you will stop coming to Him for forgiveness. Just remember that White Throne Judgment of God is forever. You won't have a place in the future.

I talked about the Kingdom of God and the attributes of what Christ has given us through the Holy Spirit from the Father. But it is important to realize that in this era there is another kingdom, a counterfeit kingdom based upon the devil where he's twisted everything backwards. The devil cannot create, he can only lie and reverse meanings. So instead of Righteousness there is evil, instead of Peace there's war, and instead of Joy there's terror. And the secondary attributes are also switched around with hate being in the place of Love, fear being in the place of Faith, and hopelessness replacing Hope.

So where is this fake kingdom located? In our minds, passed around through our communications. So our attitudes, expressions, feelings, thinking is going to express this fake kingdom if it is not centered on God's kingdom. This is the kingdom of darkness, the land of shadows. And it is not without "rulers of darkness" and "spiritual forces of wickedness" to influence us. So how do we get away from this fake kingdom and how do we live a good life?

Ephesians 2:4-10 (NKJV)

But God, who is rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us, even when we were dead in trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), and raised us up together, and made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest anyone should boast. For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand that we should walk in them.

Ephesians 4:17-32 (NKJV)

This I say, therefore, and testify in the Lord, that you should no longer walk as the rest of the Gentiles walk, in the futility of their mind, having their understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart; who, being past feeling, have given themselves over to lewdness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

But you have not so learned Christ, if indeed you have heard Him and have been taught by Him, as the truth is in Jesus: that you put off, concerning your former conduct, the old man which grows corrupt according to the deceitful lusts, and be renewed in the spirit of your mind, and that you put on the new man which was created according to God, in true righteousness and holiness.

Therefore, putting away lying, "Let each one of you speak truth with his neighbor," for we are members of one another. "Be angry, and do not sin": do not let the sun go down on your wrath, nor give place to the devil. Let him who stole steal no longer, but rather let him labor, working with his hands what is good, that he may have something to give him who has need. Let no corrupt word proceed out of your mouth, but what is good for necessary edification, that it may impart grace to the hearers. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice. And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God in Christ forgave you.

But all too often we live in the intellectual world and we lose our joy and peace. It is too easy to have a mindset of what Peace should be like, of living in the Joy, but it can't happen over here in the mind. You have to go to the Kingdom of God to have real Peace, real Joy, and a Right standing with God. How do you get back to the Kingdom of Heaven? Only through prayer, through rejoicing before God, though Love, through the Word of God. Then you speak only the words that Jesus tells you to speak, and you do only the things that Jesus tells you to do. We have to live the same life that Jesus showed us through the Gospels. We have to walk in the spirit. And you have to spend time in the word to keep the light from God bright because He is the word. You have to spend time with Him. I have a separate paper "A Deeper Look" which is added to this book to help you get started.

Well this is really all I have to say. You have a mountain to climb to make it through the pass before all of the troubles comes upon the Earth and I need to sit here awaiting the next visitor.

I sit by the fire, the Holy Spirit.

Isaiah 61:10-11 (NKJV)

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, My soul shall be joyful in my God; For He has clothed me with the garments of salvation, He has covered me with the robe of righteousness, As a bridegroom decks himself with ornaments, And as a bride adorns herself with her jewels. For as the earth brings forth its bud, As the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring forth, So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Little Book Open series

LBO 1 - Renaissance II
The first book of the series explores the need to change our direction. What is real in our lives and what is false? Where is our civilization headed? Towards a new dark age of ignorance and superstition or towards a new Renaissance of truth, mercy, and equality? And what is needed to change our course?

LBO 2 – Theory of Amorphism
The second book of the series presents a new physical Theory of Everything based upon interacting subspace singularities on an amorphous backdrop. It provides new models for elementary particles of matter and light. New definitions of electromagnetic and nuclear forces are provided. A benchmark of this theory against Newton's, Einstein's Schrödinger's, Dirac's, and Maxwell's laws, theories, and equations is provided.

LBO 3 – Theory of Ubiquity
The third book of the series describes how awareness and order exists in the universe. It makes the case for Distributed Intelligence and consciousness.

LBO 4 – Heart of the Universe
The fourth book of the series reveals hidden truths and exposes existing lies about our civilization. It is the goal of this book to give an alternative to hopelessness and bring purpose back into our lives.

LBO 5 – Psyche Life, Zoe Life
The fifth book of the series describes the nature of human beings and how we are influenced by the things that grow in the garden of our heart. Then the book describes the existence of God and how God can help us through His kingdom.

LBO 6 – The Human Soul
The sixth book of the series explores the human soul. This is where the mind, the heart and the ID exists. And this place actually exists as a singularity that is connected to every cell in the body. And the soul can get sick affecting how we think, feel and react to everyone around us.

LBO 7 – A Deeper Look
The seventh book of the series explores Biblical truths about our nature and how we can correct our behavior if we want to experience the best God has for us. This book explains how we can get closer to God's agape-love and Zoe-live in the spirit.

LBO 8 – The Promise
The last book of the series is all about Jesus's promises. It explores His words and what He expects from us. Explore the gifts He has given us as humanity faces the horrors of the end time apocalypse.
